

CRCL Values

Inclusivity: We strive to be inclusive by listening to and incorporating many voices in our work.

Knowledge: The problems facing our coast are dynamic, so we ground our advocacy and decision-making in traditional ecological knowledge and the best available science.

Accountability: We believe in fostering mutual trust through transparency and accountability, both for ourselves and others.

Collaboration: As a coalition, we understand that progress is made through partnership, so we aim to create mutually beneficial opportunities for collaboration.

Thought Leadership: We strive to be thought leaders who catalyze holistic and self-sustaining change.

Stewardship: CRCL approaches restoration with stewardship in mind, aligning our actions toward cultivating a coast within our ecological contexts.

Self-Determination:

We celebrate the self-determination of people in shaping their future by fostering opportunities for people to restore their relationships with the coast.
